Enslaved III: The Gladiators Kaitlyn O'Connor

The only thing worse than finding herself in the harem of the hideous fish-man that had bought her, Loren found out, was discovering what he really had in mind. His gladiators, to his mind, needed incentive to fight more savagely and dangling her under their noses, he was certain, was just the thing to inspire them.

What luck to arrive just as the Hirachi—his best and fiercest warriors—went into spawning! And what a terrifying thrill for her to find herself the object of the affections of three seven foot, yellow skinned aliens built like tanks—Kael, Dakaar, and Balen—all at the same time!

Rating: Carnal/erotic. Multiple sexual partners. Adult situations and language.

Genre: Futuristic Romance

Author Kaitlyn O'Connor was first published by Harlequin Enterprises in 1994 under the pen name of Madris Dupree after nearly a decade of 'apprenticeship' --struggling to learn the business, the marketing, and the writing skills necessary for a career in commercial fiction. That 'first' published book, a historical, (which was actually her fourth attempt at a marketable piece of fiction) was successful, however, selling nearly 80,000 copies in the U.S., Switzerland, France, and the U.K. She writes various genres (or sub-genres since she always writes romance!) under different pen names. She has written science fiction/futuristic/fantasy under several—Kaitlyn O'Connor, in honor of her Scottish grandmother, Lyssa Hart, and Angelique Anjou (for the French ancestry), all combined here now under the single pen name Kaitlyn O'Connor.

Happily Ever After-Desmond-4 Tea Cups!

“Kaitlyn O’Connor has done it again in creating a story, rich in adventure with sexual overtones and robust characters. She has taken the classic escape and survival story and enlivened it with enough spice and flavor to make a delicious meal for your mind and, of course, a damn good read.”

I enjoyed this book very much, I read it all in one go didn't put it down once. It was a good story with lots of emotional ups and downs, you never knew what was going to happen with the heroine and the other 2 ladies locked up with the gladiators. Were they safe or were they going to be thrown to the gladiators at any moment. They had no privacy and practically no clothing in the cells and men we're constantly parading in front of the cells and they weren't just normal men they were big ferocious aliens that were really scary looking, even the ones that seemed friendly. Later in the book you met up with the Hirachi from the other books and saw how their village and people had progressed how good they were at adapting in new environments, which was a nice touch.
