Tales from the Loop Simon Stålenhag

Simon Stålenhag's Tales from the Loop is a wildly successful crowd-funded project that takes viewers on a surprising sci-fi journey through various country and city landscapes—from small towns in Sweden and the deserts of Nevada to the bitter chill of Siberia—where children explore and engage with abandoned robots, vehicles, and machinery large and small, while dinosaurs and other creatures wander our roads and fields. Stålenhag's paintings and stories take place in an alternate version of Sweden in the '80s and '90s, primarily in the countryside of Mälaren, a string of islands just west of Stockholm, and how this reality came about: the development of the Loop, a large particle accelerator and the side effects of the massive project. These incredibly captivating works and accompanying text capture perhaps a not-too-distant reality that is both haunting and imminent: addressing the many ways developing technology and nature can create havoc and wonder in our world—plus, its impact on the next generation. This is the English edition of the first book in Swedish that sold out in its initial printing.

Antoinette Lefebvre:

People live in this new time of lifestyle always aim to and must have the extra time or they will get great deal of stress from both lifestyle and work. So , if we ask do people have free time, we will say absolutely of course. People is human not a robot. Then we ask again, what kind of activity are there when the spare time coming to anyone of course your answer will certainly unlimited right. Then do you ever try this one, reading guides. It can be your alternative inside spending your spare time, often the book you have read is definitely Tales from the Loop.

Stephen Lee:

As a student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library in order to make summary for some reserve, they are complained. Just small students that has reading's heart and soul or real their leisure activity. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to go to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading really. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring and can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Tales from the Loop can make you experience more interested to read.
