Black River Josh Simmons

In this Shirley Jacksonesque graphic novel, set in a horrific (and blackly funny) post-apocalyptic world, a group goes in search of a semi-civilized city.

Josh Simmons returns with his first full-length graphic novel since 2007's acclaimed House. A group of women, one man, and two dogs are making their way through a post-apocalyptic world in search of a city that supposedly still has electricity and some sort of civilization. Along the way, they go to a comedy club, take a drug called Gumdrop, and encounter gangs of men who are either fools, lunatics, or murderous sadists. In other words, all manner of terrors. Josh Simmons is one of the field's most distinctive voices in the horror genre (The Furry Trap, House), and this full-length graphic novel is his best work yet, echoing director John Carpenter's perfect tick-tock pacing, as well as Shirley Jackson's ability to transcend genre and turn it into literature. Wendy Cort:

As a university student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library or make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart or real their pastime. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to go to the library. They go to presently there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that examining is not important, boring and can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is being complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this era, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore , this Black River can make you experience more interested to read.
